Pipeline Pigging Products manufactures Internal Pipeline Cleaners, referred to in the trade as "Poly Pigs." Constructed of flexible open-cell polyurethane foam and various external wrappings, Poly Pigs can negotiate short radius bends, ells, tees, multi-dimensional piping, and reduced port valves. The company offers Poly Pigs in various styles (drying, wiping, and scraping) to accommodate almost any application, such as oil and gas transmission, municipal, petrochemical, pulp and paper, and processing piping systems. With over 75 years of combined experience in manufacturing, research, and application, their knowledge of Poly Pigs is unsurpassed in the industry. Pipeline Pigging Products manufactures pigs in all pipe sizes for drying, wiping, and scraping applications. Flexible foam construction allows its pigs to negotiate short radius bends, reduced port valves, and multi-dimensional pipe from below 2" to over 78" in diameter. The company has a solution for almost every pipeline cleaning issue, from oil and gas to water and wastewater piping.
