Source: HDD provides used directional drilling equipment, mud mixing & delivery systems, vacuum & pothole systems, tooling systems and locating equipment. All equipment is inspected, repaired as necessary, fully serviced and tested for complete functionality. As one of the largest buyers and sellers of used HDD drills and HDD support equipment in the world, Source: HDD is always looking to buy, sell or consign equipment. They offer competitive pricing and handle all of the logistics to ensure a trouble-free HDD transaction. In late 2015, Source: HDD, Inc. and StraightLine HDD, Inc. merged. The combination created a single point of access for everything needed to run a profitable HDD operation. Together, the new company is unified by the Ready-To-Work promise – it's a promise that every rig, every piece of equipment and tooling is ready to earn a return on your investment, the moment it hits your job site.
